

The 29th Annual STI-ENID Conference, themed "Reconciliation of Research and Measurement"

University of Bristol, UK

3-5 September 2025

<https://www.stienid2025.org/>

The 29th Annual STI-ENID Conference, themed "Reconciliation of Research and Measurement," explores how to bridge divides in methodology, epistemology, and indicator debates while addressing equity and diversity in research culture. Hosted by the University of Bristol, renowned for its commitment to reconciliation and inclusion, the conference fosters critical dialogue on harmonizing diverse perspectives and practices to advance equitable, impactful research.

The 2025 conference will explore themes around reconciling our own research and perspectives with new developments in the field such as: how CoARA is interpreted and implemented; how we can work with a new generation of meta-researchers; and, towards that end, how we can embrace a wider interdisciplinary and methodological tool sets in our a stronger STI-ENID community.

Together, we'll chart pathways toward more united research systems and a stronger STI-ENID community

Dates and deadlines

3 January 2025

Call for papers and special sessions open

28 February 2025

Call for Special Sessions close

4 April 2025

Conference submission deadlines

(Papers, Papers-in-Progress & Posters)

5 May 2025

Conference registration opens

30 May 2025

Applicants notified of paper outcomes

27 June 2025

Early bird registration closes

3-5 September 2025

Venue

The University of Bristol

The University of Bristol is a leading institution committed to innovation, academic excellence, and fostering reconciliation. Rooted in a historic yet vibrant city, it actively engages with its past while championing inclusion, and restorative justice. Join a forward-thinking community dedicated to creating a brighter, more inclusive future through education and research.

Plenary sessions will be held in the University's iconic Wills Building, with parallel sessions held in the adjacent Fry Building

Submissions now open!

All submissions via Oxford Abstracts here: <https://app.oxfordabstracts.com/stages/77578/submitter>

Blog Manager Position Open

The LIS Bibliometrics Committee is looking for two new colleagues to join us: a new Blog Manager and Deputy Blog Editor to look after our The Bibliomagician – Comment & practical guidance from the LIS-Bibliometrics community and continue the excellent work of our colleagues Rachel Miles and Laura Bredahl all these years.

The Bibliomagician blog is a highly regarded source used by practitioners, scholars, and others. You will have a key role in caring for this jewel!

Lis-Bibliometrics Committee Role Descriptions

Blog Manager

The Blog Manager is committed to the following:

Ensure that the blog editors consist of one Blog Manager and up to 2 Deputy Blog Editors

Ensure that blog posts happen on a regular basis at approximately 1 post per month.

Ensure consistency in the entire blog posting process by leading the solicitation and management of posts with or through the Deputy Blog Editors. This includes:

identifying potential authors,

soliciting content,

editing,

signing of authorship agreement,

posting and

communications associated with the dissemination of the blog post.

Time commitment: Approximately 5-10 hours per month split between all blog editors.

Deputy Blog Editor

The Deputy Blog Editor is committed to the following:

Working with the Blog Manager to ensure that blog posts happen on a regular basis at approximately 1 post per month.

Working with the Blog Manager to ensure consistency in the entire blog posting process.

This includes:

solicitation and management of posts

identifying potential authors,

soliciting content,
editing, signing of authorship agreement,
posting and
communications associated with the dissemination of the blog post.

Time commitment: Approximately 5-10 hours per month split between all blog editors.

The Committee meets face-to-face once a year (usually at the annual conference) and virtually about three times a year, to move forward with the group's work. Committee terms are usually for two years, with the possibility of extension for a further term. If you are interested in joining, please could you reply to me by Monday 21 April with a short statement (max 300 words) saying why you'd like to join the group and what you could bring to that role.

The committee:

<https://thebibliomagician.wordpress.com/about/meet-the-committee/>